our brand

“Ebukhosini” means “house of royalty”. We have chosen this name because we want to live up to high standards of excellent performance, ethical conduct and ambitious achievements. We create practical solutions with awareness, dignity and drive.

Our logo contains a cowrie-shell, which symbolizes fertile growth and wealth creation.

Our tag-line is “modern solutions – ancient traditions”. This indicates a holistic approach, drawing on eternal wisdom, people-centred philosophy and practical execution. We are informed by the past, anchored in the present and motivated by the future. In fact – we’ve got soul!

our history

Ebukhosini Solutions was founded in 2002 by Brother Buntu, a social entrepreneur with a long track record within education and developmental work. We started out taking on small contracts in Johannesburg and providing short term services.

Over the years our company has grown and increasingly taken on larger projects in different parts of South Africa. We have expanded our work scope and have also taken on contracts in other parts of Africa, Europe and the Americas.

In 2008 the ownership of the company was expanded and the company is now co-owned by three directors: Brother Buntu, Tebogo Buntu and Siphon Gideon Mantula.

our personality

At Ebukhosini Solutions we are not afraid of challenges. Actually, we love them. Throw a difficult problem at us and we will bounce back with a creative solution. Or ten. We think outside the box. Yet, our feet are firmly on practical grounds. And we don't go home until the solution is implemented. Effectively.

Some may call it attitude. We call it qualitative style.

our target market

At Ebukhosini Solutions we see our market as a broad base of partners we collaborate with for positive change. This includes corporations, government offices, international bodies, commercial entities, public departments, schools, educational institutions, correctional facilities, advocacy groups, NGOs, faith based and community organizations, youth groups and families.

We also offer mentorship, counselling and advice on an individual basis.
